

Kristin Reichardt, Secretary-Treasurer of the Georgia Mosquito Control Association, is the Special Projects Manager for Richmond County Mosquito Control in Augusta, Georgia. As Special Projects Manager, Kristin is involved in mosquito surveillance, adult mosquito control, public outreach, and more across the spectrum of the department's integrated mosquito management (IMM) programs.

Prior to joining Richmond County Mosquito Control in January 2020, Kristin graduated from the University of Notre Dame with a Bachelor of Science degree in biological sciences. During her time as an undergraduate, Kristin gained experience in mosquito control through a summer internship with her hometown, Arlington, Texas, where she assisted with Tarrant County's mosquito and West Nile Virus surveillance and helped educate the public about mosquitoes.

Kristin currently lives in North Augusta, South Carolina, with her husband and two fluffy cats. Aside from learning about mosquitoes and other vectors, she enjoys running, cooking, gardening, and the outdoors in general, especially when the mosquitoes aren't biting!
